DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on October 06, 2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-30 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 6,318,603 to Burt in view of US 5,772,086 to Bryant et al.

Burt shows an aerosol valve as seen in Fig. 1 having a metering chamber 4, a sampling chamber 5, a first sealing ring 9 made of an elastomeric material, a valve stem 7 with a dispensing passage 10, a second sealing ring 12 made of an elastomeric material provided between the metering chamber and the sampling chamber, a transfer passage 15.

In reference to claims 3-6 and 15-18:

"[E]ven though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process.” In re Thorpe, 777 F.2d 695, 698, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985) (citations omitted) (Claim was directed to a novolac color developer.

In reference to claims 7, 8, 19 and 20:

The first and second sealing rings are fixedly stationary relative to the valve by the ferrule 2 and the sleeve 14.

Burt lacks the sealing rings having an area of contact with the valve stem that is less than 90% the area of contact of a non-rounded sealing ring and Burk is silent about the material used to make the sealing rings. Bryant shows an aerosol valve as seen in Figs. 13 and 19 having sealing rings seen in Figs. 2a-2g having an area of contact with the valve stem that is less than 90% the area of contact of a non-rounded sealing ring, 2d in particular shows a sealing ring with lobes 212 and wells 213, in addition the sealing rings are made out of the same materials claimed in claims 27 and 35, see column 7, lines 18-38. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the sealing rings of Burt with cross sectional shapes that reduce friction between the stem and the sealing rings as taught by Burt to facilitate deformation and reduce the force required to operate the valve while maintaining a gas-tight seal, see column 4, lines 44-68.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-30 and 35 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Anderson shows a valve with a two-component seal.
